1

A black silhouette of a large dog, possibly a Weimaraner, walking towards the right. A small puppy of the same breed is walking alongside it, also towards the right. The background is white.
